The first 200 people who register at the company’s booth during the Singapore show will receive an exclusive gift (Booth: C4 Basement 2).

According to the Swiss-based company, benefits include:

Early Adopter: Ambassadors receive brand new SKROSS products to test and keep before anyone else. The company asks you to review them and send your feedback.

Free Gift: The first 200 people who register will receive a free gift. From time to time, other gifts exclusively for members will also be given.

Global Lifetime Warranty: Ambassadors have a lifetime warranty on SKROSS products. In the rare case of any problem, the company will replace it for free.

News: Ambassadors are the first to receive news from SKROSS.
